

saving the lives of people with blood cancer

Dear XXX,

I am getting in touch to let you know that I am currently volunteering for Anthony Nolan as a Youth Ambassador. As part of my role, I will be raising awareness of the amazing work that Anthony Nolan does, encouraging people to join the stem cell register and raising lifesaving funds to support their work.

Anthony Nolan is the charity that saves the lives of people with blood cancer and blood disorders. Every day, they give three people a second chance of life by growing the stem cell register, carrying out ground-breaking research, and providing the best possible post-transplant care.

I am planning to XXX - talk here in more detail about your ideas/plans, and how your teachers or school can support you. Tell them about what fundraiser you are planning. Let them know what your plans will involve and ask them whether they can help you.

For example, could they help by providing a location / room / stage for your event? They could help you email other students about the event, encouraging them to come along. You could ask if you could make an announcement at assembly to raise awareness of your plans. You could ask to find out more about any existing events being planned (eg: a school play, or a Christmas concert) and see if they would be happy for you to fundraise at the event by holding a bucket collection or a raffle.

I would be extremely grateful for any support you can provide.

Should you have any queries, you can contact the team at Anthony Nolan on:

Thank you for your support.

Best wishes,

XXX
